MY EXPERIENCE ON OVER COMING CONFLICT

Conflict is an active disagreement between people with opposing, principles or a struggle that the protagonist faces. Conflict may occur between friends, fellow citizens, and between the nations too. In my opinion, there are two types of conflicts and they are INTERNAL and EXTERNAL conflict. Some causes of conflict are lack of trust, misunderstanding, miscommunication, jealousy, personality differences, and many more. Likewise, we have faced many conflicts and problems in our lives. Related to that I have also faced many conflicts, problems, and misunderstandings. Now today here I am talking about any one of the conflicts that I have faced.

There was a science class test for our 2nd term exam. A boy from our class named Pranish was extremely smart and talented and scored good grades in every term. Another student from our class named Benith so-called a gang leader of a small friend circle. Benith was jealous of Pranish cause of his smartness. One day there was a project of math related to sets and we had to make a presentation on it. On that day Pranish and Benith were in the same team. Pranish was working hard to make their presentation and the project the best of all and also to score the highest marks among all of the groups that were present in our class. While Benith was talking, not doing any work, and roaming around.

After some time while they were doing their project Pranish was asking help from Benith but he refused to help and they both were arguing. Benith was saying how dare you to order me to do this stupid work. Benith was burning with anger. During the tiffin break when Pranish was enjoying and having his lunch. One of the members of Benith's gang named Ronu showed up to Pranish and told him to meet them on the football field alone. After Pranish had his lunch he visited the field alone. After waiting for a few minutes the gang of Benith approached Pranish. Pranish was so confused about what was going on. The gang Benith called Pranish and suddenly started to beat Pranish. Beating Pranish constantly caused him to have a bad injury. Pranish also had a major problem in his left hand. Also, he was hospitalized for 3 days.

After all the events on the afternoon of that incident Pranish didn't complain to any teachers and kept the incident to himself. The information about how Pranish gets bullied and beaten up by Benith spreads like wildfire throughout the school. After all the aftermath there was a plan going on with Pranish. The plan that was running through his mind was to again attack and fight back Benith's gang to get his revenge with the help of his local gang friends.

I was closely observing both and eventually, I knew about the truth. I was tired and was unable to hold the truth. Then I rushed to our principal mam's office to tell all the things that were happening between Benith's gang, Benith, and Pranish. Our principal mam immediately called all of the members of Benith's gang and Pranish to the field. On that day our principal mam asked about all of the truth regarding the fight.

The other day our principal mam called all of the gang members of Benith, Pranish, Benith himself, Pranish's parents, and Benith's parents. Benith's parents made a compromise between Pranish under certain circumstances. All of the medical expenditures that had occurred should be paid by Benith and his family.

Benith and his gang members were separated and divided into different sections. The school will be monitoring the act and they will be strictly supervised. The school gave a penalty of cleaning all of the classrooms after they had completed their studies. This was the conflict that I solved and that I faced.

The way I solved this conflict made me realize that sometimes we may face various big conflicts instead of panicking we should be able to think calmly and should be able to solve them effectively. In my opinion, we can solve conflicts in numerous ways for example we can do some active listening, compromising, defining the conflict, and many more.

Many people try to stay away from the problems and conflicts that they are going through, we should never try to do that we should try to solve it without any fear. The best way we can solve a conflict is through open and honest communication.

NEVER REFUSE AN ASSIGNMENT EXCEPT WHEN THERE IS A CONFLICT OF INTEREST, A POTENTIAL DANGER TO YOU OR YOUR FAMILY, OR YOU HOLD A STRONGLY BIASED ATTITUDE ABOUT THE SUBJECT UNDER FOCUS.
