

Zeynep N. ÇOLAK

01bilsenzeynepg01@gmail.com

MY SISTER AND ME

Hello dear G.P.F. I want to talk about a conflict I had with my sister the other day. My sister wanted to play a game with me. But this year, I have too much homework. I almost have no time for myself too. So of course, I had to refuse it. My sister got upset but got along with it. Then the day after that, my sister asked again. I said no again. Then again, again and again. Do not get me wrong, I love my sister much, but I must do my homework.

Next week, she asked me again. I do not know why, but I yelled at her by accident. Then she got mad too, and she defended herself. I am not mad at her for defending herself in any way, of course she needs to defend herself in some situations. Then we both started fighting and yelling. Both of us really did not want to fight, but all of us were tired already so when someone got angry, everyone was angry.

One hour later, she came with a little gift box. I looked at her, not really wanting to see her because I was still angry, but not much. I took the box and waited her to go away because I wanted to look to it alone. When she got out, I slowly opened the box and guess what? I remember that there were little stars with pastel colours, a few papers with “I love your big sister” written on it, a squishy she made from paper and cotton. And finally, stickers! I really, really love stickers. I like to collect them. I sometimes share it with my sister too. When I looked at all of them, I got a little upset, but happy too. I stood up from my chair and walked to her room. I knocked and shouted her name (not much since I didn’t want anyone to be uncomfortable with my shouting.). She opened the door, and I said, “I really liked your gifts, let’s play some games.” She got happy, and we started playing games.

I learned that my sister really cares about me, like how I care about her. If you have any siblings, please care about them, and try to give some attention to them. Everyone deserves some attention. That is all I have to say. I hope everyone will have a good relationship with their siblings.